

Alphabetical List
of names submitted to G-3 for manning of new camps, etc.

also filed alphabetically
70 45-0

⊙ Notation Handwritten next page (List of Presidents & Sec Wars w/ any PLS named for them) :
"Copy sent to Maj. Fitts - Dec. 18, 1940"

HÉBERT, Paul O.;- Colonel, USA and Brigadier-General, CSA.

Because he was born in Louisiana; graduate of the U.S. Military Academy; served with distinction in the Mexican War; both he and his brother (Louis - also a graduate of the U. S. Military Academy and USA officer - ) served as general officers in the Confederate Army throughout the Civil War. Brigadier-General Paul Octave Hébert was an artillery commander. The family is one of the most prominent in Louisiana.

HILL, Ambrose Powell;- (1825-1865) - Lieut. General, CSA.

Because he was born in Virginia; was a graduate of the U.S. Military Academy; distinguished himself in the U.S. Army in the Seminole and Mexican Wars; was an outstanding commander of large units of the Confederate Army in the Civil War. He was killed in action before Petersburg, Va., April 2, 1865.

HOOD. John Bell: (1831-1879) - Distinguished American Soldier.

Born at Owingsville, Kentucky, on June 1, 1831; Graduate, U.S. Military Academy, 1853; Bvt. 2d Lt., Inf., USA, July 1, 1853; 2d Lt., 2d U.S. Cavalry, March 3, 1855; 1st Lt., August 18, 1858; resigned April 16, 1861. Practically <sup>all</sup> of his service in the U.S. Army was in Texas.

Became Captain, Corps of Cavalry, C.S.A., March 16, 1861; Colonel, 4th Texas Infantry, Sept. 30, 1861; Brig. General, P.A.C.S., commanding Texas Brigade, March 3, 1862; Major-General, Oct. 10, 1862; Lieut. General, Sept. 20, 1863; General (temporary), July 18, 1864.

His famous Texas Brigade was composed of the 1st, 4th and 5th Texas Infantry, and the 18th Georgia Infantry. Distinguished as a division commander at Antietam, Fredericksburg, Gettysburg and Chickamauga; wounded a number of times in battle, losing a leg at Chickamauga, but returned and served to end of war. Succeeded Gen. Joseph E. Johnston, in command of the Confederate Army in Atlanta campaign. In insurance business in New Orleans, La., after the war, where he died of yellow fever on August 30, 1879.

PENDLETON, William Nelson (1809-1883)

From "National Encyclopaedia of American Biography," New York, 1900. Vol. X, page 240.

Clergyman and soldier; born at Richmond, Va., December 26, 1809; son of Edmund and Lucy (Nelson) Pendleton. He was related to Edmund Pendleton, the eminent statesman of Virginia. After a preliminary education at home, he attended the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., where he was graduated in the Class of 1830. He was Assistant Professor of Mathematics at West Point, 1831-32. Resigned from the Army in 1833 and was Professor of Mathematics at Bristol College, (1833-37) Pennsylvania, and Newark Collage, Delaware, (1837-38). He joined the Protestant Episcopal Church and was ordained Deacon in 1837; he became a Priest in 1838, and the following year established an Episcopal High School near Alexandria, Va., of which he was principal from 1853 until the Civil War. He was successively, Rector of Sherwood Chapel and St. John's Church, Baltimore, Md., of all Saints, Frederick City, Md., and of Grace Church at Lexington, Va. At the outbreak of the Civil War, he again entered military life as Captain of Artillery in the Confederate Army. He was made Colonel of Artillery, in 1861, and shortly afterwards, appointed Chief of Artillery to the Army of the Shenandoah; in March, 1862, he was appointed Brigadier-General (Chief of Artillery, (Army of Northern Virginia), and participated in most of the battles fought by that army. He was one of Lee's Commissioners of Surrender at Appomattox, Va. At the close of the war, he returned to his charge in Lexington, Va., where he remained until his death (January 15, 1883). He was instrumental in building the Lee Memorial Church in Lexington, Va. He was the author of "Science, A Witness for the Bible." (1860.).

From "The Confederate Soldier in the Civil War," Louisville, Ky., 1897; page 367:

"PENDLETON, William N., - Virginia:

Capt., Corps of Artillery, C.S.A., July 10, 1861; Colonel and Chief of Artillery, of Army of Northern Virginia, July 21, 1861 to surrender at Appomattox, 1865.

Brigadier-General, Provisional Army of the Confederate States, March 26, 1862.

Died at Lexington, Va., Jan. 15, 1883."

From "Register of Graduates, U. S. Military Academy, etc.," by
G. W. Cullom, USA; N. Y., 1891; page 450, Class 1830;
Vol. 1: "PENDLETON, William Nelson - No. 591 - No. 5 in Class;
Born Va.; appointed from Va; Cadet 1 July 1826;
Bvt. 2d Lt., and 2d Lt., 2d U. S. Arty., 1 July
1830; transferred to 4th U. S. Arty., 27 Oct., 1832; resigned 31 Oct., 1833."

STEWART, Daniel (1761-1829)

From: "Georgia's Roster of the Revolution." by Lucien Lamar Knight (Compiler): Athens, Ga., 1920.

Page 460: - "List of graves of deceased soldiers marked by Georgia Daughters of the American Revolution:

x x x

STEWART, Daniel, Gen'l, Liberty Co."

Page 465: - "Revolutionary graves marked or well identified:

x x x

STEWART, Daniel; Midway County, Liberty Co., Ga."

Other references: (In index of Library of Congress)

"STEWART, Daniel, General, of Georgia - 1761-1829. p.93. In 'History of the Midway Congregational Church,' Liberty County, Georgia,' by James Stacy; Pub.S.W.Murray, Newman, Ga., 1899. NOTE: This book was "out" and unavailable for reference.

"Historical Collections of Georgia," by George White; New York; Pudney & Russell; 1854.

"STEWART, Daniel, (General), p.533. F-286.W57.

NOTE: This book was "out" and unavailable for reference.

No reference to Daniel STEWART can be found in the following well known sources:

"Historical Register of Officers of the Continental Army During the War of the Revolution, April, 1775, to December, 1783;" compiled by Francis B. Heitman; Washington; The Rare Book Shop Publishing Company, Inc., 1914.

"Historical Register and Dictionary of the United States Army, From its organization, September 29, 1789, to March 2, 1903;" compiled by Francis B. Heitman. Published under act of Congress approved March 2, 1903. 2 volumes. Washington; Government Printing Office, 1903.

"American State Papers - Military Affairs - 1789-1838."
" " " - Indian Affairs - 1789-1938."
Washington; 1832-1839. (Official Documents.)

"Pictorial Field-books of the Revolution and War of 1812;" Edited by B. J. Lossing. (Contain references to most of the prominent characters of the periods in question.)

STEWART, Daniel (1761-1829)

From: "Men of Mark in Georgia," by William J. Northern; Editor: Atlanta, Ga., A.B. Caldwell, 1907-1912. Vol. 1, pp.302-304.

WALKER, William Henry Talbot, soldier, was born in Georgia, Oct. 18, 1816. He was graduated at the U. S. Military academy in 1837; commissioned 2d lieutenant, July 31, 1837; served in the Seminole war, being three times wounded at the battle of Okee-cho-bee, Dec. 25, 1837, and was brevetted 1st lieutenant. He was promoted 1st lieutenant, Feb. 1, 1838; resigned, Oct. 31, 1838, and on Nov. 18, 1840, was recommissioned with his former rank. He served in the Florida war, 1840-42; was promoted captain, Nov. 7, 1845, and served in the war with Mexico, fighting at Vera Cruz, Cerro Gordo, Amazoque, San Antonio and Churubusco. On Aug. 20, 1847, he was brevetted major, and on Sept. 8, 1847, lieutenant-colonel for Molino del Rey, where he was severely wounded. In 1849, the state of Georgia presented him a sword of honor on which was enscribed, "Okee-cho-bee; Vera Cruz; Churubusco, and Molino del Rey." He spent a year in Europe, Asia, and Africa for the benefit of his health, and was commandant of cadets at the U. S. Military academy, 1854-56, being promoted major March 3, 1855. He resigned his commission, Dec. 20, 1860, and entered the army of the Confederate States, serving under Beauregard, 1861-63. When Grant was threatening Vicksburg, he was sent with his brigade to reinforce Pemberton; joined Joseph E. Johnston at Jackson, Miss., and after the fall of that city, aided Pemberton, avoiding confinement in Vicksburg, by a skilful flank movement. He participated in Johnston's siege of Grant's forces as they lay in their trenches about Vicksburg, and subsequently joined Bragg's army, commanding the reserve corps and fighting in the right wing under Polk at Chickamauga. He served under Johnston during Sherman's march to Atlanta, commanding a division in Hardee's corps, and on the second day of Resaca disputed Lay's ferry with the Union troops. He led his division in Hood's sortie from Atlanta, July 21-22, 1864, and was mortally wounded in the engagement that followed near Decatur, Ga., dying July 26, 1864.

WHEELER (Joseph), Brigadier General United States Army.

Because he was born in Georgia.

Graduate of the U. S. M. A.; distinguished service in both the United States Army and in the Confederate Army; attained the rank of Lieutenant General in the Confederate service during the Civil War; as a General of the United States Army participated in the Spanish-American War and in the Philippine Insurrection.

There was a World War "Camp Wheeler", near Macon, Georgia; this camp was discontinued after the World War.

Born Augusta, Ga., Sept. 10, 1836.
Died Brooklyn, N. Y., Jan. 25, 1906.

Entered the United States Military Academy in 1854, and was graduated and promoted to 2d Lieutenant of Dragoons, July 1, 1859.

Transferred to the Mounted Riflemen in 1860 and resigned from the United States Army April 22, 1861.

Entered the service of the Confederacy in 1861, in which he attained the rank of Lieutenant General.

Member of Congress, 1881-1899.

Commissioned Major General of Volunteers by President McKinley, in 1898, and was placed in command of the cavalry division of Shafter's Army in Cuba, during the Spanish-American War. He was in command of the troops at Las Guasimas and was senior field officer at the battle of San Juan Hill.

General Wheeler was senior member of the commission which negotiated the surrender of Santiago.

He served with the American troops during the insurrection in the Philippines, from August 1899 to January 24, 1900.

On June 13, 1900, he was appointed Brigadier General, United States Army, and retired in September of the same year.

He died at Brooklyn, N. Y., January 25, 1906.